

of such a law as we desire to frame. We have also been aided by gentlemen versed in the law, who could point out the legal defects of propositions or requirements of the law.

With a committee, so composed, this bill has been scrutinized as to its practicability from a business standpoint, and as to legality from a legal standpoint, and the chairman, in returning thanks to each and every member of the committee who have unexceptionally done their duties well, takes pleasure in saying to this Honorable Body that, in the opinion of the committee, the bill herewith presented meets the fullest requirements and properly protects all interests.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

WM. THOMPSON,
Chairman.
